

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY STATEMENT

B&E Erection Services Ltd management and personnel are committed to ensuring that projects for which they are responsible continue to comply with current environmental standards and associated legislation.

B&E Erection Services Ltd undertake to act in accordance with best business practice and take ethical and responsible interest in environmental concerns associated with customer contracts and our internally developed services.

B&E Erection Services Ltd are committed to ensuring;

- ✓ Waste product generated by our office administration is monitored and disposed of into approved receptacles for recycling as directed by reputable supplier organisations, and removed from site for processing by licensed disposal contractors to controlled facilities.
- ✓ Compliance against the required environmental directives and industry codes of practice as applicable to our business services are regularly reviewed by management to ensure our continued improvement and compliance.
- ✓ The use and recommendation of environmentally friendly alternative products wherever possible, that are sourced and used, where product integrity and matters of safety remains unaffected.

It is the duty of all personnel within the organisation and their contracted agents to maintain the above policy and consider environmental issues, to include offering appropriate and mutually beneficial environmental partnership with customers for the wider community when possible.

The Company Directors will closely monitor changes in environmental policy and legislation at regular intervals and accordingly, improve B&E Erection Services Ltd commitment to the environment with the objective of reducing its carbon footprint.
